VANDERBILT LEAVES 50 MILLIONS

Bulk of Estate Goes to Infant Sons, in Trust

Brother Cornelius Gets Nothing From Head of Family

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 28.—The bulk of the estate of Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who perished on the Lusitania, and which has been estimated at more than $50,000,000, is left in trust to his infant sons by his second wife, Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt. They are Alfred G. Jr. and George J. Vanderbilt's will was filed for probate today.

William H. Vanderbilt, his son by his first wife, Elsie French Vanderbilt, who was divorced from him, receives a trust fund of $5,000,000 and the Vanderbilt properties known as Oaklands Farm. He is 13 years old. The widow receives $25,000 and the income of $5,000,000 in trust, together with the Vanderbilt estates in the Adirondacks and Gloucester House in London, Eng.

Relatives and friends receive bequests ranging from $100 to $15,000,000. The two infant sons share alike in the trust. Their legacies will be held in trust for them until they are 21. The bulk of the Vanderbilt millions came into the possession of Alfred G. Vanderbilt upon the death of his father, Cornelius Vanderbilt, in 1893. At that time young Vanderbilt, just out of Yale, was in Japan on a tour of the world he had planned to last two years.

He hurried home and, reading the will of his father, learned that he would have to wait until he was 30 before he would come into any appreciable part of the fortune. Then he was to receive half. At 25 he was to receive the other half. Mr. Vanderbilt was 27 last October.

Cornelius, the elder brother, cut off in the will with only a million dollars, received $5,000,000 more as a gift from Alfred. Cornelius was not mentioned in the will filed today.

Employees of Oaklands Farm, Sagamore Lodge, Camp Kilkare and Gloucester House in London, who had been in service for five years were bequeathed a full year's wages.

The will is dated December 28, 1913, and was signed in New York City. The executors are Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Frederick W. Vanderbilt, Henry R. Anderson, Frederick Davies and Frederick L. Merriam.

Roosevelt to Travel Despite Injuries

By Associated Press.
OSTER BAY, N. Y., May 28.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, despite the injury he received recently by a fall as he was about to mount a saddle horse, does not intend to defer a trip south he had planned to begin Saturday of next week. It was learned last night. The colonel expects to visit the bird preserves in Louisiana, at the request of the Audubon Society. He will make his headquarters at the home of an old friend, Colonel John M. Parker, at Pass Christian.

It developed today that closer examination had shown that two of the colonel's ribs were broken when he fell. It had been thought but one was fractured. He seemed, however, in vigorous health and worked for several hours in his library.

Herbert Stuart Stone, Victim of War, Buried

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 28.—Memorial services for Herbert Stuart Stone, who lost his life on the Lusitania, were conducted by Dr. John Timothy Stone at the Fourth Presbyterian Church here today. Had Stone lived this would have been his forty-fourth birthday. Chicago was Mr. Stone's home for many years.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Stone, parents of the deceased; Mrs. William G. McCormick of Elmwood, mother of Mr. Stone's only other relative and friend, and many Chicagoans to whom the torpedoing of the great liner brought bereavement.

Missing Rancher Found, Slept for 48 Hours

By Associated Press.
LAREMONT, May 28.—E. D. Shaw, a rancher, is at home today after having been missing for forty-eight hours, which he spent in sleep on a mountain side, where he was found by a constable sent in search of him. Shaw did not know how he got to the mountain. It is supposed that he walked in his sleep to the hill and lay down in the brush under a tree, where he was found.

STRANGERS, BUT SISTERS

Neighbors for Years Learn of Relationship From Friend

By Associated Press.
SAN DIEGO, May 28.—Living less than five miles apart for several years and each in ignorance of the existence of the other, finally to meet at the home of a mutual friend, is the unique experience that has been enjoyed by two sisters, Mrs. Frank Barber of San Marcos and Mrs. George Burnham of Temecula.

Mrs. Burnham came to California from Ohio before her sister was born. For a time she corresponded with the family and then letters ceased.

Recently Mrs. Barber visited at the home of Mrs. J. E. Putnam, also a friend of Mrs. Burnham. The discovery of the relationship of Mrs. Burnham and Mrs. Barber was made by Mrs. Putnam in the course of a conversation. Keeping the two sisters in ignorance of their relationship to each other, Mrs. Putnam invited them to a house party yesterday.

For more than half a day the two sisters fraternized before Mrs. Putnam made her discovery known.

Now the two are making plans for a joint visit to the old home in Ohio.

WILSON WILL CALL HALT IN MEXICO

By Associated Press.
EL PASO, May 28.—The Villa army in assaulting and failing to take the Oregan positions below Leon last week, lost more than 5000 men, according to reliable private advices received here today.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 28.—President Wilson's forthcoming statement on the Mexican situation will contain a detailed review of present Mexican conditions and serve warning on the factional leaders that the United States will insist on an improvement of the internal situation. Officials refused today to discuss what alternative the executive has in mind.

The statement has been written by President Wilson himself on his own terms in his study, and is said to contain about 1500 words. It will be forwarded to the various Mexican leaders through American agents. It is said to be based on the conclusion that conditions in Mexico have come to such a state that the United States is determined to have been the only factor in inducing the President's determination. Much other data has been coming to him for months.

American Red Cross supplies for the famine sufferers are to be concentrated in three great government warehouses at Galveston, Laredo and El Paso. Letters to the governor of each state, many prominent men and to some interested parties in Mexico, asking co-operation, were sent out today by Red Cross headquarters.

Women Will Protest Miner's Conviction

DENVER, May 28.—Labor unions and women's organizations will participate tonight in a mass meeting here in protest against the recent conviction of John R. Lawson, Colorado member of the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, on a charge of murder, growing out of the killing of John Nimmo in a strike battle at Ludlow, on October 23, 1912.

The principal speaker will be Representative Frank Buchanan, of Illinois, who will call on "the National Council of Industrial Unions."

Other addresses will be delivered by Professor James H. Brewster of the law department of the University of Colorado, and Mrs. Le Chaudron, president of the Women's Justice League.

6 VESSELS RUSH TO RESCUE

Mackinaw of Dollar Line Floats in Flames, All Hands Helpless

Members of Crew Are Picked Up After an Awful Night

By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—Five out of six vessels of the Dollar Line, disabled, drifting, McCulloch standing by.

This wireless, received here at 2:30 today, tells the fate of the steamer Mackinaw, which took fire off Point Reyes last night.

With the vessel's fires extinguished and the revenue cutter McCulloch, which led in the race of rescue ships to the burning steamer, standing alongside to assist in case of further trouble, the steamer Mackinaw, after a day and night fight against blaze, was reported safe shortly after 1 o'clock, when Ellery W. Stone, United States assistant radio inspector, received the news of the vessel's rescue.

The Mackinaw's engines are disabled and she is drifting helplessly, but the cutter and the other ships, expected to reach the scene of the fire at any moment and insure her safety. The entire crew was saved.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—Five of the crew of thirty-one of the freight steamer Mackinaw which drifted all night afire in a heavy gale south of Point Reyes, were picked up today from two of the ship's boats by the pilot tender California.

"No more power. Hurry! good boys." This was the wireless flash, received shortly after 7:30 this morning, that caused stokers to pile on extra coal and engineers to crowd their machinery to the limit of speed in the rush of rescuers hurrying to save the steamer Mackinaw, on fire at sea. The leader of the rescue fleet, the cutter McCulloch, will reach the ship by 11 o'clock.

The ship has been located off Point Montara, a short distance from Point Reyes. The steamers Arrol and Pennsylvania are racing to the rescue, and a short distance behind, having started this morning, are the steamers Klamaath and Beaver.

While every move in the desperate fight for life aboard the vessel is being received by wireless, United States Assistant Radio Inspector Ellery W. Stone, at his instruments, this morning gave the position of the burning boat to the vessels of the rescue fleet and cheered the vessel's crew with news of the sailing of the aiding parties.

ABLAZE FOR HOURS.

The Mackinaw, one of the best known of the Dollar Line steamers, has been afire since early last night. While the crews have been struggling with the fires in the hold of the vessel, "S. O. S." calls have been sent out from the ship's wireless repeatedly. Through the night the crew fought, this morning sending their last appeal for aid when the power gave out, shutting down the ship's pumps.

Throughout the night steamers have cast about Point Reyes in the darkness, seeking the missing vessel, while the latter was drifting off toward Montara point. The steamer's master, Captain W. B. Krebs, flashed the first call for aid last night at 7:15, and at 9 o'clock the steamer Speedwell, putting into Drake's bay, flashed word that the ship could not be located. For a time it was thought that the vessel had been destroyed, but fresh wireless calls announced that the crew was still fighting for life, and throughout the early hours of the morning vessels sped to the supposed location of the burning boat.

The steamer Coronado picked up the "S. O. S." call while off Duxbury reef, where the ill-fated Mackinaw was destroyed, and a comparatively short distance from the supposed location of the Mackinaw, which last night was thought to be considerably nearer the Golden Gate than it is.

The Admiral Dewey, sailing from Oakland harbor to northern points, reported picking up the message eighteen miles from Point Reyes. The captain declared that he saw a light seen of a conflagration.

The Mackinaw carried no passengers when she left yesterday from San Francisco for Portland, Nine

WAS MYERS 'TWO MEN?' INVALID DEPICTED AS 'DARK DESIGNER' MISS BENDEGARD CERTAIN

Seated in a wheeled chair in the midst of a crowded courtroom for two days, grilling as a monster of duplicity, silent excepting during occasional whispered conferences with his attorney, Jos. S. Myers, charged with stealing his son from Miss Agnes Bendegard, the young mother, has remained the enigma of a long preliminary examination in which a dozen witnesses have already been examined. Myers has listened stoically to the many allegations made against him, occasionally smiling wearily. For long periods of time he has sat with eyes fixed upon the face of the witness, weighing each word and facial expression. At times there has come a grim look into the face when Myers has heard a reference has been made to his infirmity, which has condemned him for many years to go about in an automobile or wheeled chair, and which has made it necessary for him to be carried by others.

Slowly the story of his relations with Miss Agnes Bendegard has been unfolded in the hearing of the packed court lobby. The facts detailed are open to more than one construction, and Attorney A. L. Frick, who represents Myers, will see to it that there is not a single detail telling against his client, which is not called in question where this is possible. But despite the possible different interpretations, certain bold facts are outstanding.

AN EAGER WITNESS.

Miss Bendegard told a story of her ten years, or more association with Myers, and all the cross-examination, during which Attorney Frick searched for contradictions in her story, failed to cause her to deviate in one point. She was voluble and eager. Often she would have the question answered before it was half out of the speaker's mouth. There were no pauses for consideration, no apparent thought as to what effect her answers would have. She wanted to tell it all, and to "lay the cards on the table."

"All I want is to get my boy back again," she told Prosecutor Attorney Ezra Decoto. "If Mr. Myers will give me back my boy, I shall be glad to drop this suit. I am not asking him for money, although I think he should provide for the care of the boy. I want nothing for myself. I do not want to marry Mr. Myers. My father will take me back into his home and protect me. All I want is my boy, and if he will give him back to me, I shall not go any further with this prosecution."

The crux of the problem is the existence of "William H. Warner." All through the cross-examination, Attorney Frick has been attempting to establish the contention that W. H. Warner is a real person. Miss Bendegard, when she went to Denver in 1910 to give birth to her baby, went under the name of Mrs. Warner, although the money and the nurse were provided by Myers "out of a trust fund." When Myers introduced Miss Bendegard to his sister, Mrs. Mary Williams, in February last, it was as "Mrs. Warner." When Miss Bendegard placed the child in the care of Mrs. Lawrence Baxter in East Oakland, she gave her name as "Mrs. Warner."

Who is William H. Warner? Does he in fact exist? Myers persisted in the contention that Warner is a real person, that he had offices in the Bacon building; that he was a mining engineer, and that he is the father of Miss Bendegard's child.

Miss Bendegard has declared again and again that Myers is a myth, imagined and promulgated by Myers as a cloak to some of his actions.

Significant in her effort to establish her statements that Myers and Warner are merely two phases of a Jekyll-and-Hyde combination, Miss Bendegard presented three rent receipts for offices in the Bacon block in court yesterday. They were for Rooms Nos. 25 and 27, which were occupied by "Warner." One of the rooms was an office and had "W. H. Warner, Mining Engineer," painted on the door. The inner room, it is said, was fitted up luxuriously as a "den."

RECEIPTS TO MYERS.

But the receipts for rent in 1904 and 1905 presented by Miss Bendegard were made out to Joseph S. Myers. The offices were occupied, according to Miss Bendegard, from 1904, when she met Myers, till 1910, when "Gerald Warner," the missing son of Miss Bendegard, was born.

A strange light is thrown by statements made by Miss Bendegard on the life of this alleged strange engineer. He was married and had a wife and child. He had offices in the Bacon block as "Joseph S. Myers, realty dealer and insurance." Daily he would come to the office, driven by his chauffeur. He would be lifted into the automobile by his wheeled chair and would be wheeled to the elevator. There he would be left alone, as he could wheel himself out of the elevator and about the corridors of the building. Did he go to his office every day, or to those of "William H. Warner," the rent of which Miss Bendegard says Myers paid?

Attorney Frick asked Miss Bendegard whether she had not seen legal documents signed by Warner.

"Mr. Myers frequently signed Warner's name to deeds and contracts," Miss Bendegard answered. "He used a different handwriting. He told me it was necessary to have a dummy in business."

Yet despite the seeming conclusiveness of the story told by Miss Bendegard, (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2-3)

BIBLE STUDENTS' ASSN. TO OPEN SESSION TODAY AT AUDITORIUM

Dedication of Oakland's new Municipal Auditorium by the largest convention since its completion is taking place this afternoon with an address by the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Johnson, president of the International Bible Students' Association, of which Pastor Russell of the London and Brooklyn Tabernacles is the president.

The convention will continue until June 6 and all of the meetings, with the exception of one, will be held in the Auditorium.

The program for this afternoon includes an address by welcome in behalf of the local body of the association and lectures.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock Pastor Russell will speak in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium on the topic, "The Battle of Armageddon."

Monday will be International Bible Students' Day at the Exposition at which time there will be an organ recital in Festival Hall.

Pastor Russell has become world-famous through his outspoken antagonism to the teachings of a "place of fire and brimstone as the eternal home of the wicked. He declares the doctrine contrary alike to reason and the Bible, and a blasphemous misrepresentation of the doctrine of the Bible. The so-called destructive higher critics also have received from him severe and trenchant criticism in his defense of the old faith, and the modern college has received its share of censure. He declares that while he believes that the higher critics do much to clarify facts concerning the Scriptures, he is, nevertheless, of the opinion that they do more to destroy faith. The Bible, he says, cannot be improved upon, and the deeper one studies, the greater will be his faith, and the less prone will he be to supplement it with any other form of belief.

Each day of the convention has been designated by name: Saturday will be "Opening Day"; Monday, May 31, "Hope Day"; Tuesday, June 1, "Kingdom Day"; Wednesday, June 2, "Holiness Day"; Thursday, June 3, "Harvest Day"; Friday, June 4, "Sabbath Day"; Saturday, June 5, "Sabbath Day"; Sunday, June 6, "Festivity Day."

British Guns Wreck Zeppelin Airship

By Associated Press.
GENEVA, via Paris, May 28.—A dispatch received here this morning from Friedrichshafen, on Lake Constance, sets forth that one of the Zeppelin airships which three days ago sailed the town of Southwest, at the mouth of the Thames, forty miles east of London, was struck by one of the British shells fired at it.

Owing to the resultant loss of gas it was unable to reach the mainland and fell into the sea off Heligoland. Whether the crew was saved is not known.

Mt. Lassen Eruptions Spent for Present

By Associated Press.
REDDING, May 28.—Renewal of Lassen peak's eruptions is not expected soon. Forest Ranger Fred Seaborn said today after his return from a trip into the crater yesterday. He suggested that the violence of the recent activity had exhausted temporarily the discharging forces of the volcano.

Residents of Hat Creek Valley, however, continue their vigilance. Their goods have been packed ready for instant removal.

SUBMARINE ARBITRATE, HIT U. S. SHIP KAISER'S PLAN

Ambassador Page Sends Report on Nebraskan to State Department

Evidence Shows Torpedo Attack, Officials Declare

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 28.—Evidence forwarded by Ambassador Page to the state department today, gathered by Lieutenant John Towers, naval attaché at the American embassy at London, indicates that the American steamer Nebraskan was torpedoed by a submarine.

The American ambassador in London informed the state department that Lieutenant Towers' investigation brings out the facts as follows:

"That the Nebraskan had left Liverpool bound for the Delaware Breakwater on the afternoon of May 21 and was in water ballast. The words 'Nebraskan, New York,' were painted on each side amidships in letters six feet high and she flew the American flag continuously up to approximately 8:10 p. m. May 23, at which time the ship was about forty miles southwest of Fastnet.

"The flag was then hauled down because the sun had set and the ship was considered at sea. The chief engineer of the ship at 8:24 p. m. observed a white streak in the water, perpendicular to the ship on the starboard side, and a severe shock was felt almost instantly, followed by a violent explosion, which held No. 1.

"Each covers No. 1 were blown off, also cargo booms above the stow, and the air was filled with oil and debris, the double bottom compartments below hold No. 1 having been used for tanks for fuel oil, bottom plating and pieces of the side were blown up through two decks. The ship settled immediately by the head and officers and crew took to boats. After remaining on the ship about one hour they returned and headed the ship for Liverpool. Under orders of the British Admiralty, a British naval tug, the H. M. S. Thetis, was sent to the scene of the disaster, and the Nebraskan, until she reached the mouth of the Mersey.

"No one was seriously injured. The Ambassador is sending by a detailed report of Lieutenant Towers and opinions of three of the ship's officers taken by the consul at Liverpool.

Officials who read the report closely said it contained all evidence of an attack by a torpedo.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 28.—An urgent message to American shipping companies against traversing the naval zone incautiously, to have all neutral markings displayed as conspicuously as possible, including illumination at night, was communicated to the State department by the German government through the American Embassy at Berlin.

The German warning was announced in the following statement made public by the State department: "American Ambassador Herr von Bernstorff has been informed by the German foreign office that in view of the fact that during the last few weeks it has repeatedly occurred that neutral ships have been sunk in the waters designated as an area of maritime war by the German admiralty on February 4, 1915, and especially in one case where it was established that the sinking was traceable to an attack by a German submarine which took the neutral ship for an English vessel in the darkness, on account of the inadequate illumination of its neutral distinctive markings, it recommended that American shipping companies again be warned against traversing the area of maritime war incautiously and also be urged to make the neutral markings as plain as possible and especially to have them illuminated promptly and sufficiently at night."

Strong phrases are used regarding what is considered as apparently the deliberate policy of British shipping companies to protect war shipments by embarking American passengers on the same ships.

Germany contends it is impossible to set the German shipping companies against the American law. It is indicated that the German government would be glad to receive information as to how it happened that ammunition was permitted to be shipped on the Lusitania, a vessel crowded with passengers.

NOTE SENT INFORMALLY.

The delivery of the note to Ambassador Gerard was not attended with any special ceremony. A functionary of the foreign office carried it across the square to the American Embassy, where it was placed in the hands of the American ambassador. The ambassador immediately began coding the message and transmitting it to Washington. Mr. Gerard in the meantime called at the foreign office.

U. S. Ship Narrowly Escapes Submarine

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 28.—The American steamer Nebraskan narrowly escaped being torpedoed by a submarine on May 23, according to a dispatch received today from the State Department.

The ship was requested to shift her anchorage on account of possible danger from fire of shore batteries.

AUTO VICTIM DIES FROM INJURIES

Crushed beneath a heavy electric truck which hit the automobile in which he was riding with Harold K. Uth, son of Dr. E. Bingham Uth of 1247 Magnolia avenue, last night, Robert M. Henderson, a youth living at 877 Eighteenth street, near Castro, died in Providence hospital today, a fractured skull and a broken right leg being the principal injuries.

The accident occurred in front of the Providence hospital and was spectacular as well as calamitous. The two boys were driving along Broadway when they were hit without warning, the car in which they were riding having been overturned three times by the force of the impact.

By something like a near miracle young Uth escaped, having been thrown clear of the machine, which was wrecked, and escaped only with slight scratches. The driver of the truck also escaped.

Spectators rushed to the aid of Henderson, who was picked up unconscious and hurried into the hospital, where surgical aid was rendered. But all efforts to bring the young man back to consciousness proved futile and the boy succumbed.

The driver of the truck, A. S. Roach of 3251 Hannah street, claims he is innocent of wrongdoing or carelessness in connection with the incident.

Young Uth says the truck turned into his car and he did not have time to avoid the collision.

Dr. O. D. Hamlin was called in to operate on Henderson, but all efforts were unavailing.

The proclamation provides that cattle may be shipped into the state, in accordance with the regulations of the United States bureau of animal industries and state laws of Texas, from any state excepting Texas and sixteen other central and eastern states.

RUSSIANS DENY SINKING OF SHIP PANTELEIMON

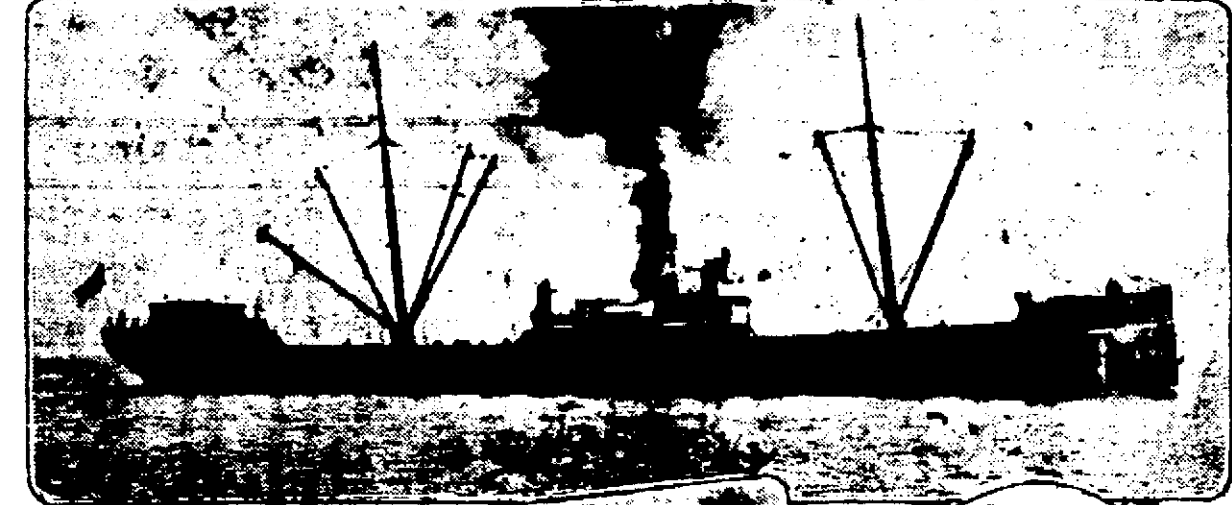

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Russian Embassy has received a cablegram from the chief of the naval staff at Petrograd categorically denying the report of the sinking by Turkish mines or submarine of the Russian battleship Panteleimon in the Black Sea.

The cablegram declares that the Panteleimon has not been in action or exposed to Turkish fire, and in fact has not for some time been out of a Russian harbor where she is now anchored. A denial is also entered of the report that other damages have been inflicted on the Russian Black Sea fleet as reported from Constantinople.

officers and a crew of twenty-five Chinese were on board. The officers were as follows:

LIST OF OFFICERS.

W. G. KREES, captain, 2575 Fruitvale avenue, Oakland.

F. EURMAN, first officer, California.

WILLIAM ALFORD, second officer, North Carolina.

S. W. BOND, third officer, North Carolina.

E. J. FRENCH, chief engineer, California.

S. MILLS, first assistant engineer, Maryland.

L. P. STEININGER, second assistant engineer, California.

M. F. KANE, third assistant engineer, Pennsylvania.

S. REINA, wireless operator, California.

The Mackinaw had no cargo, being in ballast en route to Portland, where she was to take on grain for Sydney and Melbourne.

It is believed that for a time after the first message for help came from Captain Krebs, the wireless apparatus must have been damaged and hastily repaired, as for a number of hours the ship was silent.

Then Stone's instruments picked up a message from Wireless Operator A. Reina, aboard the ship, declaring that it still was burning. He was assured that help was on the way.

HARVARD TO RESCUE.

At 8 o'clock this morning the steamer Harvard was ordered also to hurry to the aid of the vessel, and news of this, too, was flashed to the operator aboard the stricken ship.

"No more power" came back the answer. "Hurry, good boys."

This message was at once flashed to the rescue vessels, all responding that all possible speed was being used.

It was advanced as a theory by sailors on the bay that an explosion aboard the vessel probably started the fire. The Dollar Company, owners of the vessel, and the government radio station both declare that no particulars as to the exact condition of the ship or cause of the blaze have been received. The vessel is of steel construction, and Stanley Dollar, one of the owners, expressed it as his belief that the crew could save the vessel under almost any fire conditions.

Built in West Bay City, Michigan, the Mackinaw, while ostensibly owned by the Mackinaw Steamship Company, in reality has been a Dollar craft for years, that corporation owning all the stock. Recently the Dollar Company took the steamer over entirely. The steamer Mackinaw is 270 feet long and is of 2006 tonnage.

BIG STEEL SHIP.

"I can't imagine," said Stanley Dollar, "what could have started a fire on the Mackinaw. She is a steel vessel and unless there has been an explosion in the engine room, should be able to take care of herself until help arrives."

If there has been an engine room explosion it is not unlikely the crew was compelled to take to small boats and give up the fight against the flames.

Efforts were made by the Merchants' Exchange and the United States radio station to get further particulars immediately after the first word of the plight of the Mackinaw was received, but at midnight the Dollar people and the exchange and radio station still were in ignorance of the exact nature of the accident.

The Mackinaw is an old craft. Her keel was laid in 1890. For years she was in the China trade, but recently was put on the coast run.

'PINAFORE' OPERA GREAT SUCCESS

Oakland High School Pupils Score Triumph in Idora Park Presentation.

Girls galore, and pretty ones, too, together with youthful masculine thespians presented what was considered the best stage effort the Oakland High School has ever attempted in Idora Park, and Sullivan's well-known opera, "Pinafore."

The production was at Idora Park last night before a large audience and met with approbation. That the opera itself was good goes without saying, so the only comment necessary is to say that last night's presentation was much better than was expected of the participants in the various roles.

All leading parts were well filled by the ten principal characters and the support they received from the one hundred and fifty students in the choruses rounded out the piece and marked it as the best production the Oakland High School students have presented to the Oakland public.

Lorene Meier, Margaret May and Pauline Paule were exceptionally clever in their roles and came in for a considerable share of applause after every curtain.

The work of the cast reflected the work of the part of the committee of high school teachers in charge, and much credit is due Fred Carls and Miss George of the faculty. The scenery and costumes added materially to the success.

The famous Gilbert and Sullivan songs proved just as popular as any of the present day songs or songs that it is thought that the high school will take up the plan of making their annual play a revival of some well-known piece instead of one of the latter day productions.

REPORT ANTI-ITALIAN DISORDERS IN TRIESTE

By Associated Press. UDINE, via Paris, May 23.—Reports from Udine, Italy, state that serious anti-Italian disorders are taking place in that city. Five members of the semi-ranch hand and hobo class got into a free-for-all fight, and the town battle was full. The fight was between W. E. Pickins, also known as W. E. Rogers, J. Stanley charged him with knocking him down, taking three quarts of whiskey from him and also relieving him of $30. Stanley was then held before Justice Atran for violating the Wright law having given Pickins a drink before the latter decided to appropriate Stanley's belongings. The other three who mixed in the fracas have been turned loose and have departed. Stanley will probably be held for trial before the superior court.

VON BUELOW BLAMES ENGLAND FOR ITALIAN WAR DECLARATION

By Associated Press. ROME, Sunday, May 23, via the frontier and Paris, May 23 (delayed in transmission).—Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador to Italy, whose efforts have been untiring to prevent a break between the powers of the triple alliance, made the following statement to the Associated Press today. The Prince spoke with the knowledge that he was about to leave Rome:

"I hope every one will believe me when I say that I am leaving with great sorrow, and with even greater disappointment that my mission has not had the desired effect."

"I have not endeavored to deny that Italy may be right in resenting the Austrian attitude in the past. Germany often has thought that Austria was making a mistake by annoying Italy with pin pricks, instead of reaching a settlement of her differences."

"I think undoubtedly in having allowed a noisy minority to impose war without sufficient reason. Even if she attains in the end what she demands, she will not get much more than what is offered by Austria."

"Behind everything is England, who wishes to accomplish her aims with the blood of other countries. England tried to involve Greece, but the wisdom of the King and the patriotism of the people prevented it. It is also so far has resisted all temptations and it is a fact that Portugal has never declared war."

"When I first came here Italy and Austria were very far apart. I labored to bring them together. I believe that impartial observers will admit that Austria went farther than Italy. I was hopeful of success, and it is to be noted that some of the most prominent Italian politicians, including Signor Giolitti, were firmly convinced that Italy's participation in the war could be avoided by obtaining concessions from Austria. It should have been understood, however, that it was impossible to deprive the central empires of Trieste, their only outlet to the Adriatic in the Mediterranean."

"In the middle of May the situation for an Italy-Austrian understanding was favorable, but the resignation of the Salander ministry was followed by turbulent demonstrations in the more important cities of the kingdom, and the intimidation of senators and deputies by the populace. The result was the declaration of war."

RAILROAD JACKS AID VAULT DESTRUCTION

SACRAMENTO, May 23.—Two fifty-ton hydraulic jacks loaned by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company are responsible for the speedy demolition of the steel and cement vault of the old Capital National bank, on which nine workmen hammered away for three weeks without making much more than an impression and chipping the almost solid walls of the block of concrete. Had it not been for the loaning of the jacks to the contractor, P. P. Delmas, it is possible that many months would have been consumed in the attempt to dislodge and dismember the walls of the vault. It took them three days to clear the site of the vault.

LAD RUN OVER

U-24 TORPEDOES STEAMER

By Associated Press. LIVERPOOL, May 23, 1:04 p. m.—The Elder Dempster Line steamer Ethiope has been torpedoed and sunk. The chief officer, and 15 men of the Ethiope have been picked up. The rest of the crew is supposed to be in boats.

The Ethiope was bound from Hull to Liverpool when she was to have sailed for East African ports.

The vessel was sunk by the German submarine U-24. The Ethiope of 2,400 tons was built in 1905 and was owned in Liverpool. She was 340 feet long. She was last reported as arriving at Hull, England on April 22 from Lagos.

ALLIES TO REPATRIATE MEN

ROME, May 23, 3:40 p. m., via Paris, May 23.—Negotiations have been reopened with Petrograd, according to The Tribune, regarding the transfer to Italy of prisoners of Italian nationality taken from the Austrians.

Italy originally refused to consider the return of these men on the ground that it would constitute an offense to her ally, Austria. With the entrance of this country into the war, however, the situation has changed, and if Russia still is willing to make the transfer Italy will pledge herself to return to Russia all prisoners of Polish nationality she may have taken.

The Tribune says similar negotiations are being conducted with Serbia. Prisoners of Serbian and Croatian nationality would be exchanged for Italians.

BALKANS MAY INTERVENE

LONDON, May 23, 12:02 p. m.—The Turkish troops defending the Gallipoli Peninsula against the landing forces of the allies number 50,000 men, according to the correspondent at Athens of the Reuter Telegram Company.

The Turks are remaining on the defensive in the Caucasus and concentrating all their efforts on the Dardanelles, where reinforcements are being brought from Syria. The supplies of ammunition, both for the infantry and the artillery are reported to be decreasing rapidly with no prospect of being replenished.

Reports reaching Athens from Sofia set forth that Bulgaria is holding its neutrality, but the leaders of the opposition party believe that if Bulgaria intervenes in the war Bulgaria will follow suit.

ITALIANS CAPTURE STORO

By Associated Press. GENEVA, via Paris, 2:15 p. m., May 23.—The Italians, after a severe fight along the frontier north of Lake Idro, have captured the town of Storó, and are now bombarding it.

On the eastern front north of the Gulf of Trieste, bayonet fighting is in progress south of Gorizia. The Austrians are retreating slowly. Italian forces have arrived before Gradisca, 18 miles from Trieste.

The Italian authorities issued an order last night prohibiting Austrians and Germans from leaving the country.

OFFICIAL WAR STATEMENTS

By Associated Press. PARIS, May 23.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading as follows:

"In the region to the north of Arras there occurred last night a very violent artillery engagement. The enemy bombarded particularly our trenches on the heights of Lorette. A night attack made it possible for us to make further progress to the east of the roadway between Aix-Neulette and Souchez. At about midnight a German counter-attack on our trenches at Albain-St. Nazaire was easily repulsed."

"In the Argonne in the vicinity of Fontaine Madame, we yesterday took possession of a section of the enemy's trenches."

DIES FROM THIRST ON SEARCHLIGHT DESERT

WATSONVILLE IS AFTER SEAPORT

Chamber of Commerce Wants Congressmen to Visit Site and Inspect Plans.

WATSONVILLE, May 23.—President R. H. Hudson, of the chamber of commerce, who recently stated a willingness to provide for the entertainment of the entire visiting congressional delegation on its return from Honolulu, is anxiously awaiting a reply that will indicate their coming.

Watsonville is the largest shipping point on the bay of Monterey, and wants a breakwater with a breakwater in order that the largest ships may dock here and load Watsonville valley apples and other products direct for Europe.

A survey was made by Colonel Biddle, four years ago, but the board of engineers did not see fit to recommend the matter to Congress because of a pending project at Monterey. But as the latter appears to have fallen through on account of failure to construct a railroad line from the San Joaquin, a condition imposed, it is believed this place will stand a good show of securing a permanent harbor, if the congressmen can be induced to come here and look over the ground.

MARRIED, SHE BRINGS SUIT FOR HEART BALM

SACRAMENTO, May 23.—Miss Delphine Foreman, the pretty telephone girl who brought a $50,000 breach of promise suit against B. F. May, a wealthy retired Virginian, will never tell of her broken heart to a judge and jury, as her attorneys have learned that she was married when she says May proposed. The case was brought to a sudden end when Attorney Welsh and Henry, representing Miss Foreman, filed a dismissal in the superior court.

The attorneys have learned that Miss Foreman was a Mrs. James Paine at the time May offered her his heart and hand, bought her a $500 engagement ring and a trunk with his initials on it. Her first husband, Paine, obtained a divorce in Oregon a short time after. The Oregon law provides that a second marriage cannot be entered into within six months after a decree of divorce has been issued.

It is now that we should attend a House of God revering the memories of those who have gone before---
It is now that we should look to One to whom we may always turn for help and consolation.*

Uncle Wiggily and the Pussy Willows

By HOWARD R. GARIS

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

"SOME one is coming to see me," exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, who was just taking a little nap before starting out for his daily walk in the woods. "Uncle Wiggily, I hope that isn't my dancing teacher," said the rabbit gentleman. "I haven't practiced the lettuce glide once this week."

"Oh, don't worry," laughed Nurse Jane. "It is only some of your little animal friends, coming from school. I see Lulu and Alice Wigglesworth, the duck girls, and Susie Littletail, the rabbit, and there is Jennie Chipmunk, too."

"None of the boys," asked Uncle Wiggily. "Aren't Billy and Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrels, there?" "I don't see them," Nurse Jane answered.

"Ugh! I hope nothing has happened to any of the boy animals," Uncle Wiggily remarked, as he put on his spectacles as he could see better. "Maybe the boys are all lost and the girls have come to ask me to help find them."

"Maybe," Miss Pussy Wigglesworth said, with a laugh. "But I think it's more likely that the boys are off playing ball and the girls have come to invite you to a doll's party or something like that."

"I like dolls," parties. Uncle Wiggily said, making his nose twinkle like a star on a Christmas tree.

"Well, what seems to be the trouble, children?" asked the muskrat lady, as the little girl animals came in the hollow stump bungalow.

"We want to see Uncle Wiggily," said Susie Littletail.

"Here I am!" her rabbit uncle cried. "Here I am!" her rabbit uncle cried. "Here I am!" her rabbit uncle cried.

"No," answered the little rabbit girl, "nothing has happened. The boys are spinning their tops."

"I thought they'd be up to some game," murmured Nurse Jane, as she went out to put a shoe on the leg of the stove.

"Well, what do you girls want?" Uncle Wiggily asked.

"The lady house, our teacher, wants us to bring some pussy willows to school tomorrow," explained Susie. "She says she wants to put them in a vase in water and have them look pretty in the room."

"Well, aren't you going to bring them?" Uncle Wiggily asked. "Pussy willows are very pretty, I think."

"We think so, too," said Lulu Wigglesworth. "But we don't know where to find any to bring to school. They grow down in the swamp, you know, but it is wet there. We are afraid to go and we thought maybe the boys would get the pussy willows for us."

"But they wouldn't," exclaimed Jennie Chipmunk. "They went off to spin their tops."

"And so we came to you," said Susie, softly, "think maybe you could."

"Of course, I'll get pussy willows for you," exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll put on my rubber boots so I won't get wet in the damp swamp. I'll get a lot of pussy willows for you."

"Oh, how kind and good you are!" cried the girls.

"I'll be back in half an hour," said Uncle Wiggily, as he slipped on his rubber boots and carried his little girl animal friends to the hollow stump bungalow.

"Then Uncle Wiggily took Kitten home with the pussy willows, of which there were enough for every one. And Kitten's mamma was just getting worried about her. But everything came out right, you see, and she got some all alone by herself for her teacher," said Kitten, "but I got lost."

"Never mind! I found you," said Uncle Wiggily. "And to think the pussy willow plants coming to life!" and merrily he laughed until his nose twinkled like a diamond ring.

DREAMS

(By LILLIAN RUSSELL)

(Copyright, 1915, by Lillian Russell)

DO dreams come true? Of course they do. But it is not the dream itself that is the important thing, but the character and the right sort of stuff back of them. Dreams of the sleep mind are inconsequential unless, perchance, they prove suggestive and inspire action. But the dreams of the wide awake and carefully calculating mind are most likely to materialize. So do not hesitate to dream of what you may accomplish. Only when your imaginative mind has outlined your path, put enough courage and will power back of them to make your dreams come true.

A woman who is void of imaginative powers lacks a valuable asset. The dreamer is the creator of his own destiny. It is his hand that makes the most attractive home. She it is who gives her entertainments a touch of originality. Her dinners never become monotonous. She exercises her imagination when she looks into the future and takes precautions against the markings of time upon her face and figure.

It is she, more than any other, who lives right, for her imagination tells her what the future holds if she does otherwise. She is the interesting woman, the one who finds life full of wonderful things and possibilities, and proves attractive to others. She dreams and imagines things and then has the sense to put sufficient force back of the mental creations to transform them into real things.

When you see a well-dressed woman you can be sure that she, or somebody back of her, has exercised an imagination. When you find your hostess providing you with unique entertainment, you can mark it down that an imaginative woman is responsible. Those things which are most interesting and attract the greatest admiration and attention invariably rise into the real through the dream or imagination. The man who does great things has dreamed them all beforehand.

Remember: Dream as you will, or imagine what you may, your mental creations will never materialize unless you put real force and action behind them.

IONA S.: You truly are too young to have your face marred by wrinkles. For a good skin food you will surely find it for about fifteen minutes each night with a good skin food and get plenty of sleep and rest. It will not be long before they will have disappeared. I shall be pleased to send you formula for a good skin food if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope. A good exercise for developing the bust is to double your fists as tightly as you can, bringing them together in front with the arms raised so as to be horizontal. While keeping your arms on a level with your shoulders, slowly separate your fists as widely as possible. Do this 100 times over.

PEARL: You can avoid the scars from whiteheads if you will first bathe the face in warm water until it becomes pink and soft. Open each little whitehead with the point of a fine needle, which has been sterilized by dropping it into boiling water. Press or pick out the little white substance. Apply a drop of peroxide to the little wound after doing this. By carefully massaging your face each night with a good skin food you will be able to remove the little scars from the whiteheads.

of knowing how to arrange a most picturesque festival. The tents were exceedingly effective, and the many booths decorated in a most fascinating way. Great trees of yellow brown waved gently in the breeze, and surely no roses in the world are fairer than those of Piedmont Park. For Mr. Frank Havens has always been an authority on roses, and so Piedmont Park in the late spring is a wonderful study in bloom.

It is a pleasure to watch the development of a May Fete, the members work with such good will. Miss Matilda Brown is the guiding spirit, and she is so fair always, so helpful on all sides that success is assured.

Two young matrons, Mrs. William Thornton White and Mrs. Harry Chickering are doing splendid work in the Ladies' Relief society. Mrs. White has fine executive ability, and she always bestows no end of time and trouble on anything she undertakes. She has been at the head of the committee, as chairman of the day for the fete.

Mrs. Wickham Havens is another matron of whom much is expected always. She is asked to aid many causes, and she gives her assistance so willingly, that it is a pleasure to ask it of her. Mrs. Havens had charge of the dancing this afternoon.

The auction players greatly enjoyed their afternoon in the Art Gallery, perhaps they never played worse auction, for how can one bid on auction, when such beautiful pictures call away one's thoughts from the game. Every one has such confidence in the work of the Ladies' Relief association, that very hearty good wishes always greet any of its philanthropic experiments.

G. F. E.: I doubt much your being able to do anything to change the shape of your nose. You might be able to reduce it by carefully massaging it from the base downward. I should think, however, as long as the unshapeliness is the cause of an accident, a nose specialist could tell you the best thing to do.

ANNIE: Nothing will bring wrinkles or gray hairs quicker than sleepless nights. You cannot have a clear skin, bright eyes, and an elastic step if you take your troubles to bed with you. Sleeping time is not thinking time. It is useless to waste thoughts on the past which cannot return. Just make the best of today and do not let the awakes nights thinking of the morrow. Free your mind from all the cares of the day and go to bed to rest and sleep. Walk for about half an hour before retiring; this will, I am sure, after a couple of times, induce sleep, and you will feel rested and refreshed in the morning and able to take up your duties for the day.

WOMEN in the NEWS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Younger than his wife by twenty-two years, and performing the life in San Francisco to the exclusion of Moss Beach, Frank De Cheney was yesterday given a divorce by the Superior Court of San Francisco. Mrs. De Cheney, who is 35, was formerly widely known in San Francisco for her charitable work. She spent a large portion of her personal fortune in assisting and trying to reform former convicts.

Mrs. De Cheney was served with the divorce papers, which alleged desertion, through the window of her home by the sea.

There was a touch of religious differences between the two. Mrs. De Cheney, according to the divorce, is a devout Roman Catholic, while her husband is a Unitarian. Her nephew testified along this line, saying that he did not think Mrs. De Cheney had ever been in a theater in her life.

De Cheney testified that the wedding, which took place in San Francisco, June 1, 1901, was a very simple affair. He said that he had been engaged to her for a long time and that she had been exceedingly kind to him. After the marriage, she thought that he would be better away from the temptations of a large city, but he did not agree to that.

De Cheney went to Nevada shortly after their wedding. He said that he had been recently received a letter from Mrs. De Cheney in which she stated that reconciliation was impossible.

MRS. C. W. CLARK SERIOUSLY ILL.—Mrs. C. W. Clark, daughter-in-law of former Senator William A. Clark of Montana, is seriously ill at her home, El Palomar, in San Mateo county. Her illness dates from the birth of a son May 7.

THE GERMAN NOTE.

In the "conjectured" outline of the German reply to President Wilson's note, in the Luzitania, published in this morning's papers, we have probably the essentials of the German position. Assuming this to be so, the note in no sense meets the requirements of President Wilson's demands. The situation is further aggravated by the continuance of submarine warfare in and about British waters. Manifestly the German government has no intention of changing its policy in the matter of submarine warfare. Manifestly its idea is to deal with President Wilson in civil terms, but without making any vital concession to his wishes as declared in his note of two weeks ago. Apparently it is the plan of the Berlin chancellery to engage the Washington government in a give-and-take diplomatic correspondence, in the meantime proceeding along the fixed lines of its naval policy.

What is the Washington government going to do about it? Here comes the test of Mr. Wilson's statesmanship. He will have either to take the back track, in a sense, by falling into diplomatic correspondence which really means nothing but delay, or take positive action in line with the suggestions of his original letter. Again we ask, what will he do about it? His temperament will incline him to write another letter. But this would imply a practical acquiescence in the German policy of evasion and delay.

President Wilson, we think, if the German note shall be in line with the conjectured outline, should sternly demand of Germany a direct reply to his demands—yes or no, under a short-time limit. In case satisfactory reply is not made, he should break off diplomatic relations with Berlin. The dignities of the American government cannot be sustained by anything short of this action. To enter into correspondence, probably to be protracted and certainly to be confusing, will be practically to abandon the American demands.

The situation, we repeat, is one which puts President Wilson's qualities to the test. He has made a presentment to Germany, admirable in its temper, fair yet positive in its demands. He has won the approval and the goodwill of the American nation. This approval and goodwill can be maintained by firmly standing to his guns. By any other course it will assuredly be lost.

IMPROPER ACTION.

The spectacle of Federal administration and other officials striving to bring pressure to bear upon delegates to the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks, at the Hotel Oakland, yesterday, was not an uplifting one. The Comptroller of the Currency at Washington is engaged in an unpleasant and acute altercation in and out of the courts with the Riggs National Bank of Washington. Ugly charges have been made against Comptroller Williams and he, in turn, has brought charges of wrong-doing against the bank. The courts have been appealed to, and that is the proper place for the issue to be tried. It is distinctly improper and un-American for federal officials to try to persuade, or by the suggestion of a pressure, to induce the bank supervisors in national convention to take biased and partisan action in a case which is in process of judicial determination. There were very grave differences of opinion concerning the passage of a resolution at the convention in Oakland, yesterday, and we understood that the indorsement given Comptroller Williams was adopted by a very slender majority.

Any proceeding or action in the case of the dispute between the Riggs Bank and the Comptroller of the Currency and other treasury officials should have been emphatically refused by the bank supervisors, who have been holding their convention here. The impropriety of attempting to express an opinion in this matter, at this time, ought to have been plainly evident to every man of good sense and of good taste. The federal and other officials who are responsible for forcing this action upon the convention have shown such a lack of judgment and propriety as to seriously impair their usefulness in any public office. The ill-timed and unfortunate action taken by the convention of bank supervisors will affect the public unpleasantly for the reason that it must inevitably suggest the suspicion that the men to whom the safety and supervision of state banks is entrusted are lacking in propriety, wisdom and a sense of duty. The grave point at issue between treasury officials at Washington and the Riggs Bank of that city ought to be determined in an orderly and legitimate fashion, and not by appeals to the public or by partisan activities of subordinate officials here or elsewhere.

LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE.

Senator Martine of New Jersey has recently returned from Honolulu with the large Congressional delegation which has been enjoying in the Hawaiian Islands. Like many of the Congressional colleagues, Senator Martine is bursting with information and suggestions. He has, in the course of his fortnight's visit, mastered all of the intricate problems of a political, social, racial and economic nature which are presented in one way or another to the wayfarer in Honolulu.

Senator Martine is one of those busy Senators whose remedy for every real or imaginary evil is a new law or a whole series of new laws. Men of his type are never satisfied with existing conditions. They want change and are willing to take the people by almost any price for it. Many of our State and Federal legislative bodies are so ambitious, have this same unfortunate tendency. They believe that fame and promotion may be most easily and certainly achieved by making a noise and keeping busy most of the time and by endeavoring "to do things," as the saying is. Of course, nine-tenths of the time their activities are unnecessary, if not positively mischievous.

Senator Martine desires to upset affairs in the Hawaiian Islands. He sees a pretty prosperous community here and one whose only fear is that its business may be upset, if not ruined, by the action of the United States government respecting sugar. Sugar planters in the Hawaiian Islands do not want to have sugar put on the free list. Ninety-five per cent of the population of the islands is dependent in one way or another upon the sugar industry, and their main desire is that they shall have a fair amount of protection. Taking the tax from sugar does not help the consumer at all, but merely means adding to the cost of the sugar. The sugar trust, such being the actual and prospective conditions in Honolulu, Senator Martine proposes to make everybody happy by bringing the Hawaiian Islands into the Union as a new State. The territorial government is working extremely well and it is very much to the advantage of the people of the Hawaiian Islands to let them have the immediate jurisdiction of Washington and to have their domestic policies restricted as much as possible. No one but a few professional politicians really desire statehood at this time. But the tender heart of Senator Martine bleeds for the poor islanders because they live in a territory and not in a State. We venture the suggestion that they are just as happy and just as contented and more prosperous than the citizens of New Jersey, Senator Martine's own State, and that, taken as a whole, they get more out of life.

Bringing the Hawaiian Islands into the Union will not help nor affect economic conditions there. The people of the islands know what they want and why they want it. If they can have protection for the sugar industry it makes little or no difference to them whether they live under a territorial or a state government. What they particularly desire is to be let alone and to have present conditions continue.

We have already had a lot of things in California that have eaten as many of its eggs as anyone else, but in many instances we have noticed that baldies come from splitting hairs. With a hint for the Chinese egg past understanding, Petchuma would have the little thing marked "foreign." Preserving a true Oriental silence, the Chinese egg has nothing to say in the matter. Even aspersions of character against the Chinese hen has failed to move it from its calm. Perhaps it cannot understand what is the matter with Petchuma. Any sort of a Chinese in business refuses to sell goods at the same price as an American rival, if his goods are better and cost him more; if they are exactly the same, he will make his price correspond with that of his competitor. If he desires the trade, but never for a moment would he think of ordering a competitor to provide a description of his goods other than the said goods themselves. Have patience, Petchuma, break not thine eggs. If the Chinese product is so very bad, if the Chinese hen is a foul creature and a producer of bad eggs, we will surely find it out quickly enough by taste. And while we know nothing of the character of your hens, we prefer to buy eggs from Petchuma anyway, because they are of California origin.

For a practical study in depressing gloom and fifth we commend to our readers the main waiting room on the ground floor in the Ferry building of San Francisco, where people are herded like animals in a den to wait for the Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda boats. A vast cellar-like, gloomy, ill ventilated and dirty room is provided. The air is filled at times with the shriek and raucous notes of a cheap mechanical music-making machine. The floor is covered with bits of paper, peanut shells, orange peel and slippery with saliva. If there is merit and truth in the germ theory there is probably no place in California in which disease is more likely to be swiftly and freely communicated than in this dank, damp, dark, uncomfortable waiting room. It seems almost incredible that a city which has produced such an exquisite thing in architecture as the Exposition should be content with the accommodations which are little better than cattle pens for the traveling public. The first and last impression of San Francisco which a visitor gets is of the Ferry station and it is certain to be a very unpleasant one.

The United Presbyterian Church, in general assembly at Loveland, Colo., yesterday, demanded of the United States government that it create a federal commission for the censorship of motion picture shows. Curiously enough this appeal is made in connection with a matter wherein censorship, voluntary but authoritative, has already been accepted. While the picture shows, often times and perhaps for the most part, are commonplace and trivial, they are almost never unclean. The vital criticism of the movie game is not that of bad morals, but rather that of bad manners. Professor Reed, who spoke at the Claremont last evening before the Berkeley Club, hit a nail fairly upon its head: "If we are not careful," declared Professor Reed, "our children will all grow up to be Charlie Chaplins."

The British naval forces continue to suffer heavy losses at the hands of the Germans and Turks. Several battleships have been sunk in the Dardanelles with heavy loss, and day before yesterday, the Princess Irene was blown up in an English harbor. No information is furnished concerning the destruction of the Princess Irene. Her sinking is as mysterious as that of the battleship Bulwark, off the mouth of the Thames, November 26th last. The British navy may be hampered by the difficulties in the Admiralty in London, but plainly the people of Great Britain are disappointed in its achievements to date.

The request of Alameda County Women's Auxiliary to the Board of Supervisors, that they be furnished funds for the entertainment of women guests at the Exposition, in order that they may keep pace with other counties in this respect, is a matter worthy immediate provision and, doubtless, will meet with chivalrous response. The whole of Alameda county should be unanimous when it comes to seeing to it that its charming women shall in no degree be set in the background.

There is possibility of a solution of Mexico's troubles and prediction of an end of warfare in an appeal made yesterday by President Wilson as head of the American Red Cross. General starvation has entered upon a field where General Huerta, General Villa, General Carranza, General Obregon, General Zapata and President Wilson have failed. We have now, for the first time, hopes of something doing.

Farnum Fish, Oakland aviator, wounded while scouting in Mexico, writes local friends that 3000 shots were fired at him, that twenty struck his machine and that he received five wounds from one of the bullets. Farnum's agile mentality that enabled him to count the enemy's leaden messages, and the fact that he was 2500 feet in air at the time, places him at the head of the list of the country's higher mathematicians.

Out in Indian Gulch amphitheater, Wildwood Park, fifteen hundred boys and girls are dancing their way through pageantry today. Oakland's early history is being told by consumed youngsters. What better way to welcome summer? And who better fitted to picture Oakland's infant days, in verdant setting, than these sturdy children, crammed with health and gorged with the spirit of the great outdoors?

Look not for romance in the march of Progress. Cooks and railroad builders, is to be cut up into homesites.

THE STATE PRESS

Steering Clear.
 The ship Albatross, of the United States Navy, is reported to have been steering clear of the coast of Mexico, in order to avoid the danger of being captured by the Mexican government.

Deep Sea Story.
 Investigation of the feasibility of a deep sea ship canal from Sacramento to San Francisco Bay, near the point where the ship Albatross was reported to have been steering clear of the coast of Mexico, is being conducted by the United States Navy.

Lovely Woman.
 During the past six months the women of Santa Barbara, under the direction of the war relief committee, have been working for the relief of the war victims in Europe. They have been successful in raising a large sum of money for the relief of the war victims.

Burtonville Profit.
 Not only was the 1915 rose carnival a great success in its every feature, but the financial report given by the secretary of the Burtonville Rose Carnival, on Monday evening showed that the carnival had made a profit of $1000.

Studying Stockton.
 Professor W. H. Henshaw, of the University of California, has been in Stockton with a number of students making a thorough study of the agricultural and industrial conditions of the city and surrounding country.

Last Heard of the Prune.
 With the exception of the cherries, little if any damage has been done to the prune crop in this section by the recent rains, according to prominent fruit buyers and growers of this district. Almonds are not hurt, and the fact that some have been blown from the trees will increase the size and quality of the crop, it is said.

Iced City Manager.
 When he declared a public utility and providing for a city manager form of government, Berkeley had put into effect its new charter, passed by the recent session of the legislature.

CAMILLE SAINT-SAENS.
 The presence in this country of the distinguished French composer Camille Saint-Saens should add much to the interest of the musical programme at the exposition in San Francisco. While he is here, care should be taken to give him the attention which he deserves, and to let him know that he is not forgotten in this country.

He is the foremost of French composers of orchestral music and is one of the greatest of the composers of this department. His symphonies and symphonic poems led the way for French musicians to the opulent field of modern representative composition. As a pianist and as an organist of the Madeleine, Saint-Saens earned no small amount of fame and when he last visited this country he showed that his fingers had not lost their cunning. As a composer of piano music he stands high; but when his work comes to a final summing up there can be no doubt that he will be remembered as the composer of the symphonic poem "Phaeton," "Le Rouet d'Omphale," "Danse Macabre," "La Jeunesse d'Hercule" and perhaps some of the symphonies.

A great traveller and a student of literature, a man of facile and energetic mind, and a philosopher, Saint-Saens was a philosopher of the world, and his thought, untroubled by the thought of yesterday, untroubled by the thought of tomorrow, untroubled by the thought of the day after tomorrow, was a thought of the world, a thought of the world, a thought of the world.

UNPLEASANT NEWS FROM PARIS

According to a Paris dispatch in yesterday's Sun, "several important American contracts have been cancelled" because the goods delivered were not equal to sample, in some cases were the direct contrary of what was stipulated in the contract. For instance, 500,000 pairs of socks, each with 70 per cent cotton, were found to be 70 per cent cotton and 30 per cent wool. Thus are the fine traditions of "army contracts" perpetuated; and thus is the integrity of American manufacturers advertised in the world.

It is not pleasant to read that "of twenty-five of the largest American houses with which the French Government is doing business only one has a record of never failing to deliver on time." Each must be the record of substantially all our manufacturers if they do business with anybody not actually compelled to accept their wares.

Our Latin American friends for whom we are supposed to be making so eager an effort what an invitation to do business with us is thus sent out.—N. Y. Sun.

RED GROSS CALLS YOUNG DOCTORS

American medical students, in their fourth year, will have a chance to get some real experience in their profession if they respond to the call of the American Red Cross, according to Dr. E. W. Hayward of Baltimore.

The Red Cross has asked for the names of fourth-year students and physicians for volunteer service in Serbia, where typhus is raging," said Dr. Hayward. "Some weeks ago a call was sent to Johns Hopkins for 1000 men, 500 of whom were to be sent to the front, and 500 to the rear. The students who are going to the front are to be sent to the front, and the students who are going to the rear are to be sent to the rear."

Two years ago when Sonnenschein was less of a teletype house and more of a newspaper, he was in the hospital in the hall and suffered from typhus, for which his parents got a judgment of $169 in the municipal court. Since then Sonnenschein has met with reverses and was not only unable to pay the judgment, but couldn't even support his family. When Deputy Sheriff McInnis and Zellner went to Sonnenschein's flat yesterday they found his family in want. The children had no shoes and the mother had no money to buy them.

KETTLEWELL

NOTABLE PERSONS

Mr. Herman A. Heikomer, one of the most distinguished of American artists and one who has achieved very substantial recognition in London, where he has past most of his life, has opened a studio in San Francisco. He is painting a portrait of Henry T. Scott, one of the most notable men on the Pacific coast. In the opinion of competent critics, Mr. Heikomer's portrait of Mr. Scott is by far the most important work of art of the kind which has been produced in California within the last decade or two.

Three cheers and a tiger greeted the appearance of William Woodcock, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America at the convention of Pacific Coast advertising men in Los Angeles yesterday.

Six delegates from the United States who attended the Women's Peace Conference at The Hague, have returned to their homes. They were Mrs. Mabel M. Irwin of Brooklyn, Mrs. Grace de Graft of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Frank R. McMillin of Chicago, Mrs. Orlie L. Amason of Brooklyn, Mrs. J. B. Rublee of Washington, D. C. and Mrs. R. W. Kohlhammer of Chicago.

"Germany is bound to win," declared John G. Lamont, United States Vice Consul at Hamburg, on his arrival here yesterday to attend the funeral of his father at Titusville, Pa. Germany's resources are practically untouched," he said. "She has plenty of provisions, plenty of copper and plenty of everything else she needs. If necessary the Germans can put an army of 15,000,000 men in the field."

General Moritz von Auffenberg, former Austro-Hungarian Minister of War, and early in the war in command of an Austrian army, has been arrested and is being treated as a "serious political criminal," according to the "Frankfurter Zeitung." Events which happened during his tenure in office are given by the "Frankfurter Zeitung" as grounds for the investigation.

JAIL FOR DEBT, EVEN WITH HIS FAMILY IN WANT

What is regarded as an example of the injustice of the present laws permitting imprisonment for debt was disclosed in the sheriff's office yesterday, when Samuel Sonnenschein was arrested because he couldn't pay a judgment of $169. Sonnenschein was taken from his home at 63 East 126th street, where he lives with his wife and four children, to Ludlow street jail, where he will remain indefinitely.

Two years ago when Sonnenschein was less of a teletype house and more of a newspaper, he was in the hospital in the hall and suffered from typhus, for which his parents got a judgment of $169 in the municipal court. Since then Sonnenschein has met with reverses and was not only unable to pay the judgment, but couldn't even support his family. When Deputy Sheriff McInnis and Zellner went to Sonnenschein's flat yesterday they found his family in want. The children had no shoes and the mother had no money to buy them.

The deputies said they would willingly have given him time to which to make some action to combat the judgment; but that the judgment creditor and the latter's attorney were insistent that Sonnenschein be taken to jail unless he paid the debt, and they had no alternative but to do so.—New York Sun.

Rev. Anna Shaw and Miss Susan B. Anthony left for Yosemite. They will later make a tour of the southern part of the state.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. N. J. Croake; vice-president, Mrs. E. L. Curtis; auditor, Mrs. G. M. Kimball. At the morning session, Mrs. Munson read a paper on "Working Girls." Mrs. S. C. Borland, the retiring president, resigned the chair to the newly elected officer, Mrs. Croake.

Fred M. Campbell returned home yesterday from a month's business trip in the northern part of the state. He leaves again today. He states that the outlook for a prosperous year in California was never more flattering. A great deal of activity is manifested in mining.

A fashionable audience was at the Macaonough theater at the Ysare concert. There was some desultory talk about the lack of "soul" in Ysare's violin playing. This is singular, when it is remembered that it is the sentiment of Mrs. Ysare that has been most loudly commended the world over.

Dawn.
 Hall, Rosy: One, who stabs the pallid breast
 Of Heaven with thy darting wounds of flame—

Whose breath incarnadines with happy zest
 The ere-while ennui of the world's huge frame.
 Bound softly is thy brow in gilded mesh,
 And 'twixt thy smiling lips red poppies bloom.

Whose sheney splendor is as brightly fresh
 As pearls of rain, or thawing stream's first flow.
 Now has the crocus yielded up her sweet
 Unto the wooing of the morning breeze
 And yonder leaps the awakened stag, his bent
 The frightened nymphs seek shelter from the glare
 Of a discomfited liveries of day.

Which climbs the sky, swift shod in azure air.
 The desert's amber cheek, the coral strand,
 Far Indian gardens, sweet with jasmine scent
 And nightingales' delight—all hast thou scanned.

And to their charms thy blush's crimson lent.
 A thousand rethuries crown thy flaming brow.
 Yet is thy vermeil glow so ravishing
 That ages hence thou knowest not, and at thy brow
 The planets tremble when they hear thee sing.

 Dr. Appleton & Co. have published "Dye Stuffs and Coal Tar Products," by Thomas Beacall, a volume which will have much interest for all who are concerned over the difficulty, since the war began, of getting dye materials from Germany. It is a practical book, dealing with the nature and manufacture of dyes, and is a most valuable work.

BASE BALL Billy Fitz

We are loath to admit it, but the fact can no longer be concealed that certain baseball writers on reputable California journals are so irresponsible that they are doing the profession a tremendous disservice by publishing views which are being quoted without their knowledge, much less their permission. Mere surmises are being offered the public as absolute facts, and extravagant praise and malicious criticism are handed out as the result of personal likes and dislikes. All of which is not becoming a reputable newspaper or a conscientious, well-informed sporting writer, and should not be tolerated.

Stories, for instance, published recently concerning a change in management of the Oakland club are without excuse, having emanated solely from certain sources obviously inimical to the Oakland baseball club owners. There has been no change in management of the Oakland club, and no change in the personnel of the club. The fact that the Oakland club has been managed by a new manager for the past year is a fact which is being published in the papers last year repeatedly stated and which is being published in the papers last year repeatedly stated and which is being published in the papers last year repeatedly stated.

Now comes a dispatch from Los Angeles quoting Lillian and Blumkin as saying that baseball gambling in Salt Lake and Oakland was adversely affecting the interests of baseball. The dispatch says that Lillian and Blumkin have paid any such thing, for so far as Oakland is concerned, it is an absolute lie. There is no gambling in Salt Lake and Oakland and has not been since the middle of last season, when such activity was suppressed by the police and the district attorney. There is no evidence of any kind of baseball pools in Oakland.

The writer knows of several bets made on local ball games but they were made between individuals who would bet on a game or two here and there, but not on a regular basis. To say that gambling in Oakland is hurting baseball, and not refer to San Francisco as an iniquitous absurdity.

Dec White, the Venetian manager, believes in getting quick when it comes to making a bet. When he was in the American League, he said, a walk followed by a safe hit usually meant the taking out of the game. In the Oakland club, it's good enough for any league.

Dec showed that he means what he says when he says that he is a gambler. Tuesday's half-rally game and quickly ranked Elmer Belter Thursday.

The Salt Lake club board of directors is wise club of six millionaires. It is a pretty wise club these days that has millions of dollars in the club, for baseball is no sport for a poor man. For confirmation, ask Han. Berry of the San Francisco club.

Just a month or so ago Tyler Christian and the Oakland club were making all kinds of efforts to get rid of Elmer Belter. It now develops that Elmer Belter is the one who is the best player in the Oakland club. He is the one who is the best player in the Oakland club. He is the one who is the best player in the Oakland club.

Two walks and two doubles, together with a home run, made up the Oakland club's record yesterday. The Oakland club's record yesterday was a 10-0 victory over the San Francisco club.

Purcell, the Venetian second sacker, who is about as good a hitter as Art Guest, through with a timely double in the first inning yesterday's game, scored the Johnny Kane and Berger ahead of him.

Rowdy Elliot is having no little trouble with his hand. He was forced to retire in the second when he sustained a split finger. Rowdy's hand should be wrapped up in bandages, but he won't let it get the best of him, and sticks to his task. Yesterday's injury is not thought to be a very serious one.

Stanley Covaleskie, the youthful Beaver pitcher, got his first win yesterday when he doubled off Pernell in the sixth inning.

The fact that the Beavers banged Hub Pernell for 5 runs, 10 hits in 3-1 innings may mean that Hub will be a big star. He was pitched out of the game in the third inning, but he was pitched out of the game in the third inning, but he was pitched out of the game in the third inning.

The acquisition of Dent, the Southern League pitcher, will mean that the Seal pitching staff will have to be cut down. Hub Pernell has been chosen as the one to go. The passing of Pernell from this league will mean the loss of one of the best southpaws ever developed on the Coast. Hub had his first start with some club in the Northwestern league, and after the fact he was traded to the Oakland club. He was traded to the Oakland club. He was traded to the Oakland club.

The Tigers turned him back to the Oakland later in the season, but he couldn't get back into his right form and was unconditionally released. He was unconditionally released. He was unconditionally released.

Worthern can drop Hub off its roster and thus do away with two-rotation money, as his home is in Grants.

Art Fromme to Pitch for Venice

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Art Fromme, until recently a pitcher on the New York National League team, is practically sure of a berth with the Venice Coast League club. Fromme, who quietly appeared in Los Angeles yesterday and announced that he was a free agent, left a conference today with Ed Water, president of the Venice club. Afterward it was stated that terms had been satisfactorily adjusted. Fromme had previously been of Fromme was that he had been sent to Jersey City by McGraw.

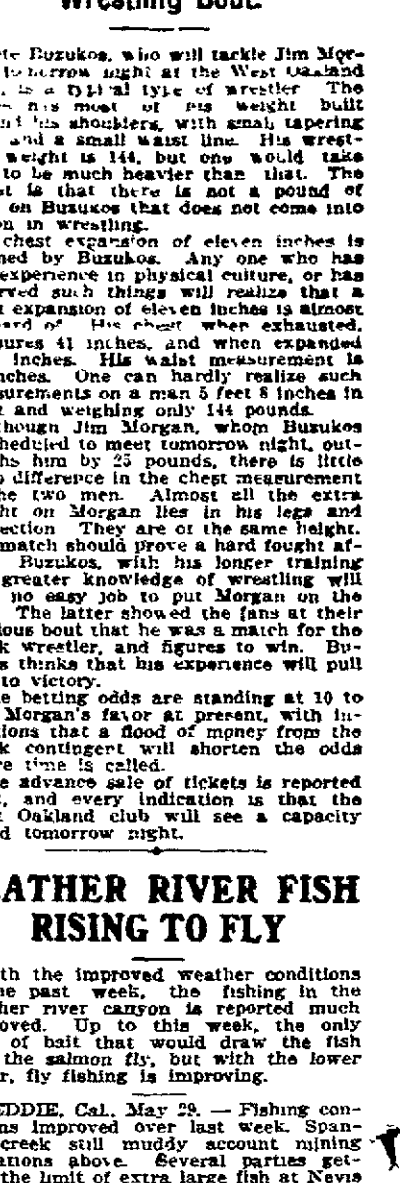

J.M. MORGAN IS MADE FAVORITE IN BETTING ODDS

Greek Wrestler Has Bet $500 on Himself to Win Big Wrestling Bout. Pete Buzukos, who will tackle Jim Morgan tomorrow night at the West Oakland club, is a typical type of wrestler. The Greek has most of his weight built around his shoulders, with small, tapering legs, and a small waist line. His wrestling weight is 144, but one would take him to be much heavier than that. The secret is that there is not a pound of flesh on Buzukos that does not come into action in wrestling.

GLAVENICH WILL PITCH FOR STATE LEAGUE LOCALS

SAN JOSE, May 29.—Oakland and San Jose will scrap for second place in the California League in one of the most important games of the season at Luna park here tomorrow. With Sears, Strub, Keller, Smith, Merrett and Harman in the lineup, Oakland is entrenched in second place and promises to make a stiff bid to retain its hold. Glavenich, former star of the St. Mary's team, will pitch for Oakland.

What Does an Extra Base Hit Count For?

The part that the extra base hit plays in baseball has never been definitely determined. A home run, or even double or a triple will always bring a thrill to the heart of the fan, and a pitcher's value of an extra base count, because it adds to the pitcher's value. The extra base hit is a hit that counts for more than a single. It is a hit that counts for more than a single. It is a hit that counts for more than a single.

CARPENTIER HAS PROVEN COURAGE AS AIR PILOT

Georges Carpentier, the heavyweight champion of France, is now an air pilot in the aviation corps of the French army. There has always been a suspicion that Carpentier was shy on gameness since he quit to Billy Papke in seventeen rounds. Pictures of Carpentier in his air pilot suit show him to be a mighty man. He is a man of courage and a man of courage. He is a man of courage and a man of courage.

RED WATSON FLOORS MANDOT; DRAW

DULUTH, Minn., May 29.—Joe Mandot of New Orleans and "Red" Watson of California, lightweights, fought ten rounds at Superior last night. Watson floored Mandot twice in the seventh round and the going saved him. He came back strong in the eighth round and fought even with his aggressive adversary to the finish. Newspapers called the bout a draw owing to Mandot's cleverness.

SPORTLETS

It is estimated that Joe Willard has cleaned up about $500 of the $1,000,000 he was to pick up easily after winning the title. This means he still has $399,999 to go.

In the International League one William D. Thompson is a contract jumper. One is referred to as "Burrhead" with power to boot.

Wonder if this team of old men will ditch last in any league? Mathewson, pitcher, Gibson, catcher; Hummel, first; Lajoie, second; Wagner, short; Wallace, third; Cravath, left; Leach, short; and Crawford, right.

MEXICO STARVING, SAYS RED CROSS

Appeal Issued for Food, Money Not Wanted; Send Corn, Beans, Rice.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The American Red Cross has issued a statement appealing for aid for Mexico. It follows: "The conditions in Mexico are appalling. Great numbers of unfortunate people are victims of the long-continued fighting. They have been facing starvation for months and now they have reached an acute stage, when only food supplies can save them from death. A telegram just received from Central America states that at Monterrey, Mexico, says: "The Monterey Chamber of Commerce has asked me to appeal to the American National Red Cross for food for the starving people of Monterey. The Chamber of Commerce has stood nobly by the people, but has reached its limit. The commanding general assures free freight and free duties. The city is without food and the people will starve unless help comes quickly. We do not want money, but earnestly beg for corn, beans and rice. If we can have help for three weeks, until green corn and garden stuff comes on, we will be safe, but we must have corn, beans, rice and flour, or starve. If most earnestly beg help and that it be sent at once. This is no ordinary case. Thousands are hungry and will starve without help. The city has already had terrible food riots before troops arrived. Please beg Red Cross to help for three weeks, until roasting ears are ready." "Already the American Red Cross has a carload of corn and one of beans on their way from Laredo, Tex., to General Huanuco at Monterrey. Free freight and free duty have been arranged for, and the military authorities guarantee safe conduct. The Red Cross cannot continue to send assistance without public contributions. In Mexico, the conditions are the same terrible conditions exist. "Here we have in our western hemisphere people face to face with absolute starvation. The president has issued an appeal, and the Red Cross is working to the same end. Thousands of innocent women and children are in dire distress. We cannot let them starve to death. The Red Cross will place its own agent in Mexico, and through the State Department, in cooperation with the United States consuls there, such supplies as may be purchased with the contributions or given in kind, will be distributed among the suffering non-combatants. "Arrangements have been made for warehouses at which donations of corn, beans, rice and flour can be collected to be forwarded to New York, Galveston and Laredo. Any further information from American Red Cross headquarters, Washington, D. C."

"ACTORS' FACTORY" NAME OF JOINT CONCESSION

W. A. Brooks, manager of the "101 Ranch" at the Exposition, last night stated that the Miller Brothers have taken a half interest in "Filmland," an adjoining attraction, and hereafter will operate the two concessions jointly, using the performers from the west show as an extra added attraction. Hereafter the cowboys and Indians from the "101 Ranch" will appear in special scenes to be photographed in Filmland, and the public will be permitted to see the taking of the pictures. Later these same films will be shown in the motion picture theater that is part of the Filmland concession. "Every one likes the movies," said Manager Brooks, "and we are going to show the public just how they are taken and made. Then we will show the finished product on the screen right under the same roof where the actors appeared in real life but a few moments before. I don't know what we will call this combination, but don't you think 'actors' factory' would be a good name?" And so "actors' factory" is what it probably will be called.

J. Mitchell in the Superior Court, alleging that she has been the household drudge and practically a servant for her husband's children. The couple were married in 1901 and Mrs. Mitchell says that all of the children are now self-supporting. # PRESBYTERIANS URGE SUNDAY FAIR CLOSING

LOVELAND, Colo., May 29.—The fifty-seventh general assembly of the United Presbyterian church of North America, continued its deliberations here today with the presentation of reports and addresses by delegates. The assembly last night urged the membership to work for the passage of legislative bills designed to raise moral standards. The elimination of motoring on the Sabbath also was urged. A petition has been addressed to the management of the Panama-Pacific Exposition asking reconsideration of that body in the matter of Sunday observance. The report of the moral committee, advocating national prohibition and denouncing polygamy and sectarian appropriations for education was adopted. A federal censorship of moving pictures also was recommended.

NEW BOULEVARD OPENED WITH PARADE AND DANCE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 29.—The new boulevard opening another route to the north via "Chuncho Pass," was thrown open today to motorists, who in celebration of the event made its smooth surface a dancing floor on which hundreds "trotted" to the music of an open air cabaret. The highway cost $120,000 and reduces heretofore impossible grades. Hundreds of motor cars participated in a parade, which preceded the opening ceremonies.

ORIENT BEST MARKET FOR COAST PRODUCE, SAYS U. S. OFFICIAL

COMMERCE CHIEF OAKLAND GUEST

Head of Bureau Here to Tell Californians of Chances in Far East.

Dr. Edward Ewing Pratt, chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce at Washington, D. C., and Congressman J. Arthur Elston are the guests of honor today at a luncheon given by members of the Oakland Commercial Club in the private dining room of the Hotel Oakland. Dr. Pratt, who is on the coast as the representative of Secretary of Commerce Redfield is the chief speaker.

He was the guest yesterday of members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon attended by 600 business men.

"The principal difficulty is that American manufacturers and merchants do not employ the same degree of discretion and study to foreign trade as they do to domestic trade," he said to the San Franciscans. "If a New England manufacturer decides to open a market on the Pacific Coast he studies the market before attempting to sell. When foreign trade is mentioned he contents himself with sending a traveling man. He does not employ the same common sense that he would use in doing business in his own country."

"On the Pacific Coast your best openings are not in South America, as many have supposed, but in Australia, Japan, China and the East Indies. Russia and Siberia are starting an era of development such as the United States experienced beginning sixty years ago."

Dr. Pratt then explained how much can be learned about foreign markets by asking the bureau itself. He said that the function of the bureau is to gather information and to communicate the same to the buyer and the seller in communication.

"It is not unlikely that at least $50,000,000 worth of business annually comes to the American manufacturers through the work of this bureau," he said.

Dr. Pratt concluded by inviting all Coast manufacturers and merchants to send inquiries as to trade possibilities.

STATE GOVT. TRANCHES LEASE QUARTERS IN L. A.

SACRAMENTO, May 29.—Thirty thousand feet of floor space were leased by the state board of control to be used by the branches of the departments of state government located in Los Angeles. Bids were called for some time ago for headquarters in Los Angeles. The Union League Club, owning an eight-story building on the corner of Second and Spring streets, was the successful bidder. The state will occupy the two upper stories and one-half of the ground floor. The rental per month is $1590. The lease is for five years. The new quarters in Los Angeles will house the state supreme and appellate courts, branches of the railroad commission, motor vehicle department and other state offices which may be established there.

URGES ATTENDANCE AT SUMMER MILITARY CAMP

NEW YORK, May 29.—Military authorities here today are receiving many inquiries about the summer military camps provided by the United States government. This interest was the result of an address delivered by Major-General Leonard Wood in the graduation exercises of the Berkeley school for boys here. General Wood urged all college men to spend their summers at the student military camps and to familiarize themselves with military drills as a safeguard against a possible war.

"While I see no immediate prospect of a war, it may come upon us at any moment," said General Wood. "You are not prepared for your military duty unless you know something about modern warfare. What we need here is the same system, in which every young man is compelled to take a short course of training."

HEART DISEASE CAUSES DEATH OF CONTRACTOR

STOCKTON, May 29.—Heart disease caused the death of Frederick S. Edinger, a railroad contractor of Berkeley, who passed away in a local hotel on May 15, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury today. Edinger came to Stockton on business the preceding day and stayed at the Hotel Cal. He was found dead in bed the following morning. The presence of a box of powders, bearing a "poison" label at the side of the bed at first led to the theory that he had committed suicide. Investigation, however, developed the fact that death was due to a lesion of the mitral valve. The powder, it was learned, had been used by Edinger to relieve hay fever, from which he had long been a sufferer.

HIKE TO MOUNT DIABLO. Members of the Tahoe Hiking Club are planning a trip to the top of Mt. Diablo, starting Sunday and returning Monday evening. ## NOTED ENGLISHMAN NAMED IN OIL FRAUD SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Charges that the California oil men who listened to Andrew Weir, R. Tilden Smith, A. M. Grenfell and other noted English financiers, a year ago and were induced to turn over their General Petroleum first mortgage bonds to the Western Ocean Syndicate, Limited, were practically "bunked" out of their money were made in a suit for injunction filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Victor Etienne Jr.

The names of Earl Grey, Lord Pirrie, O. Anderson Diesel engine fame, were brought into the suit. Etienne says they were simply used as bait by the clever anglers for California gold in the scheme.

R. Tilden Smith is specifically charged with fraud in representing that General Petroleum would receive large orders for oil from the British admiralty through his (Smith's) personal influence. The steamship lines controlled by Earl Grey and Lord Pirrie, it was promised, would turn to oil and make other large purchases. Weir is charged with fraudulently representing that he was in control of the oil business in Ecuador and could turn it to the General Petroleum. None of these things happened.

Only Three Remain in Inner Workings. Three Buried Under Debris Piles.

NANAIMO, B. C., May 29.—All day yesterday the work of clearing up the levels of the reserve mine and restoring ventilation was carried on by a strong force of men, and as was anticipated, rapid progress was made. By four o'clock, or 24 hours after the explosion occurred, all the bodies in the mine, except those of T. Bewlay, Paul Vitta and J. Suter, had been recovered.

The bodies recovered so far and brought into town are those of Fred Crew, J. Leach, William and James McEwen, T. Hargreaves, F. Teschke, Nick Selez, W. Gifford, Alf Williamson, J. W. Davis, J. L. Mace, B. Kirkbridge, R. Broom, R. Maddow, L. Shaw and Ed Beck. The three men still in the mine are supposed to be buried under a pile of fallen debris.

Work is now proceeding to get them out and it is not expected that it will take very long. The fact that such rapid progress should have been made indicates that the mine workings were little damaged by the explosion. It was mainly the ventilating brattice that was blown down and as this was replaced, carrying the ventilation forward, the various bodies were reached and taken care of. The caves-in were not very numerous and none of them of any magnitude.

WOULD BE SOLDIER; MUST HAVE GUARDIAN

Arthur Vialhoef, a young German 18 years of age, has used the superior court as a medium whereby he may join the German army. He has applied for the appointment of H. H. Elrod as his guardian in order that he may obtain the necessary permission to enlist. He has been in this country for three years and one of his family is on the other side of the Atlantic. Elrod is a friend who will give him permission to fight as soon as the courts make him the young man's legal guardian.

The names of Earl Grey, Lord Pirrie, O. Anderson Diesel engine fame, were brought into the suit. Etienne says they were simply used as bait by the clever anglers for California gold in the scheme.

Lyman, Land Swindler, Freed From Debts WILL TAKE BODIES FROM SUBMARINE

Big Hole in Hulk of Lost F-4 May Be Result of Severe Pounding.

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Because no claims were filed against him during the year legally allowed Dr. John Grant Lyman, the promoter, whose dealing in Panama land resulted in a government case that pursued him to the Canadian line some years ago, stands today free of all bankruptcy proceedings. He does not yet know it, however, as he is somewhere in the war zone of Europe, but whether he is right or not is unknown. Lyman is alleged to have wanted a swindle based on fictitious land grants in the canal zone. When captured and taken to Oakland he escaped jail and fled. Recaptured, he was tried and sentenced to fifteen months on McNeill Island. When the bankruptcy petition was filed Lyman's debts were scheduled at $225,000.

NORWEGIAN CHURCH TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

The Norwegian Evangelical Free Church on Thirty-seventh street, near West, will celebrate its fifth anniversary Sunday at 3 o'clock tomorrow. Rev. J. W. Ringland of the United Brethren Church and Rev. E. Gjerding of the Danish-Norwegian Methodist Episcopal Church of this city, will speak. T. Anderson will play several violin selections.

HONOLULU, May 29.—Lovers who visited the hulk of submarine F-4 yesterday, reported a large hole in the bow of the ill-fated vessel at the point of rupture of her forward and middle compartments. Naval authorities said that in all probability the hole was caused by constant pounding upon the ocean floor during the heavy seas of the last few days, and that it was not the result of an internal explosion.

A quantity of loading was removed from the interior of the hulk, now about 24 feet below the surface, and it was decided tonight that an attempt would be made tomorrow to remove the bodies of those who died within her, to ward against possible mutilation by fishes and crabs.

With this end in view, towing and lifting operations will be halted tomorrow, and divers will, if successful, convey the bodies to a barge, which in turn will transport them to Honolulu.
